No prob.

Once the analysis is completed the original certs will stay with the drugs. We do not keep a copy of the certs. All the info is stored in our database.

If the cert is lost or you just need a new one, we can generate another cert, but the the date notarize will differ from the original.

Hope this helps.

Annie

Hi Annie,

Sorry to bother you, AGAIN!!!!!!

Random question, if you can help me with it....: My understanding is that once the drug is tested and a certificate of analysis is created, the original certificate goes back to the police department with the drugs???

AND, do you guys keep a copy of the cert for your records??

A co-worker has a civil forfeiture trial coming up....

Thank you!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
